

Eucharistic Prayer

The Presence of The God Who Labors is with you.

And also with you.

Offer your labor in service to God.

We bring our hands, our hearts, our minds.

Sing praise to the God Who Labors With Us.

We sing joy, life, and peace to our God.

Christ died, in solidarity with the poor;

Christ was raised, restoring hope for justice;

Christ will come, with a bountiful banquet for all.

Laborer for Love, Artisan of the Cosmos,

Your work bears an imprint of your glory.

May your vision for this work be completed.

May your labor of love hum in harmony,

one with each other part throughout space and time.

Teach us to labor only for what we need,

to share any excess with the rest of creation.

Release us from our creditors,

as we release those whom we think still owe us.

Keep us from valuing that which divides us.

Break all bonds beyond our control that keep some people poor and others well off.

For we all belong to your powerful, glorious

Labor of Love, now and forever. Amen.
